Three Men Met Horrible Death in a Steam Boiler

By Associated Press.

Cleveland, June 6.—Three men were killed by the sudden rush of steam in a boiler which they were repairing at the American Steel and Wire Company here today. Several other men were slightly injured. It is supposed one of the men struck and broke a steam connection pipe.

VOICE AND WALK WAS THIS NEGRO'S UNDOING.

Columbus, Ga., June 6.—Dressed in woman's clothing, a young negro man, who gives his name as Will Carter, was arrested by the police yesterday at the union station as he was about to board a train for Montgomery, Ala.

He had on a red dress, wore a heavy wig, had a pad of cotton over his breast, and wore a heavy veil, which completely hid his features. The police officer at the station suspected his sex on account of his coarse voice and mannish stride.

The negro says that he "slapped" another negro near Jefferson City, Mo., three years ago, and fearing that a warrant would be issued for him, he fled, adopting this disguise. "The police regard this story as very thin, and think that he is wanted somewhere for murder or some other serious offense. He arrived from South Georgia this morning.

PRISONER JUMPED TO DEATH FROM TRAIN.

Lake Charles, La., June 6.—Robert White, an alleged forger, who was being taken from Lafayette to Beaumont by a deputy sheriff, jumped from a Southern Pacific train yesterday while it was crossing the upper end of the lake and received injuries which proved fatal. White, who was handcuffed, obtained permission to go to the toilet room, and dived headfirst through the window, manacled as he was, his head striking some timbers of the trestle, which were a few inches under water. His escape was discovered at once, the train was stopped and he was rescued from the lake, but he lived only an hour. White is alleged to be one of three men who committed extensive forgeries in the oil fields two years ago. One of them is now serving a long term in the Texas penitentiary, but White eluded arrest until apprehended in Lafayette Saturday.

LIVELY CAMPAIGN IS ON IN GEORGIA

FIGHT ALREADY ON OVER A YEAR IN ADVANCE OF THE PRIMARIES.

Atlanta, June 6.—Georgians, as a rule, deprecate the fact that the campaign for governor has opened so early, more than a year in advance of the primary, but they realize that it has been precipitated by the formal announcement of the candidacy of Hon. Hoke Smith, and interesting developments are expected to succeed one another now with some rapidity.

It is said that Mr. Smith is going to open his campaign some time the latter part of June or the first of July, and that he will make his first speech at Madison, in Morgan county, or probably in Troup county. Mr. Smith will make a commencement address to-day at Thomaston, Upson county. Clark Howell has gone to Dahloona to attend the commencement exercises of the North Georgia Agricultural College, he having been appointed chairman of the committee from the university trustees to be present on this occasion.

T. Larry Gantt, who is looked upon as campaign manager for Hon. James M. Smith, of Oglethorpe, is in the city and declared that Mr. Smith was in the race to stay to the end.

"Mr. Smith is too big a man to retire because Clark Howell and Hoke Smith want to fight it out with each other," Mr. Gantt declared. "He is busy just now getting the grass out of his crops, but when the time comes he is going to make a tour of the state and he will be ready to meet the other candidates face to face. He is in the race to stay and he is in the race to win."

The Journal has published a petition, addressed to Mr. Hoke Smith, signed by 245 citizens of Laurens county, promising him their support in his race.

That "Model Farm."

That "model farm" at the University of Florida would be a very interesting model for the farmers of our state, if we may judge by the report of the legislative committee. After reading that report we don't wonder that but one lone student is taking the agricultural course there, and it seems probable that he will get a prejudice against farming that will last him a lifetime.—Live Oak Democrat.

concerns now seeking a grant with the city. The powerhouse is located to the north of the city, out of the reach of the gas mains, and the only lighting is with lanterns. Other improvements are contemplated, such as opening up dead ends of mains so that sediment may be carried out of the pipes.

Sign of the Times.
 One of the signs of these modern times is that women no longer ask men to sharpen pencils for them to use. When a woman's pencil gets dull these days, or has its point broken off, she does not go around hunting for a man to repair the damages. No. She sticks her hand into an accessible pocket, pulls out a sweet little penknife and performs the sharpening act with grace and dexterity. She generally does it so deftly as to leave no graphite on her thumb that cannot be dispersed with a breath. There is no doubt that women are improving greatly along substantial lines.—Tampa Times.

GERMANY'S BLACK LETTER.

Comparison of Texts Used in Printing in the Fatherland.

"It is remarkable that so practical a people as the Germans should continue to use their blind black letter," says Jerome Hart. "The German text is ugly, and when printed from small type on dingy paper with high speed presses, as is the case with most daily newspapers, it is difficult to decipher. Ever since the days of Cadmus alphabets have been designed to convey ideas, and those alphabets which transfer thought with the most quickness, clearness and precision are the best. Considered from these standpoints the German alphabet is one of the worst. That it is a failure is shown unconsciously in many ways. Advertisers, for example, have no sentiment about them. They want to reach the reader and reach him quickly. Therefore nearly all the display advertisements in German newspapers are printed in Latin characters.

"So, too, with the commercial and financial pages. Stockbrokers and merchants have no time to waste in deciphering badly printed German text. Therefore the commercial page in the German dailies is now nearly always set up in Roman type. Circus advertisements, theater placards and advertising posters generally, the names of streets on the corner signs, the lettering on cars and omnibuses, even temporary signs, such as 'No Throughfare' or 'Street Closed,' you nearly always see in Latin characters.

"Another proof of the inferiority of the German text is the fact that nearly all German scientific works are printed in Roman. This has been the case for years, but it has had little effect on the printing of books of a general nature. Bismarck did much to retard this needed improvement, for he clung stubbornly to the German text and frequently sent back books which were printed in Roman, refusing to read them."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

FLOUR IN CHINA.

There It Is Made of Almost Everything Except Wheat.

The Chinese cook stuck the end of an ivory chopstick into a small brown biscuit.

"Taste, sir," he said. The biscuit was warm, crisp, rich; it was light, well salted, nutritious—a biscuit, in a word, of peculiar excellence.

"This biscuit, sir, is made of flour of lentils," said the Chinaman. "You know lentils? Little green pellets slightly flattened like split peas. Lentils are considered the most nutritious of all the foods of the earth. This one lentil biscuit, sir, is equal in nourishing power to a pound and a half of roast beef."

He took from a tin a little cake. "Again taste," he said.

The little cake was rich and good. "It is made, sir, of the flour of almonds," said the cook—"fresh, sweet almonds ground into a white powder between two millstones. Such a flour is a finer thing than your flour of wheat, eh?"

Then he lifted a great lid and revealed some thirty or forty compartments, one filled with a pink flour, another with a yellow one, a third with a brown one, a fourth with a white, a fifth with a pale green, a sixth with a blue, and so on.

"All these are Chinese flours," he said. "In China, sir, we make over fifty kinds of flour. We make flour out of potatoes, out of sweet potatoes, out of peas, out of cocoanuts, out of millet, out of pulse, out of oats, out of bananas—the fact is, sir, we make flour in China out of everything but wheat, for in China, sir, we eat no bread, and therefore the coarse, dry, tasteless flour of wheat is useless to us."—Philadelphia Bulletin.
